Many Crops Still Too Green

Rain Causes More Delay In Harvest Operations

Harvesting operations throughout the county were again held up temporarily this week when a short but heavy rainstorm swept over the district Monday afternoon. The amount of rain varied greatly, with some points reporting an inch or more, while in town .61 of an inch was recorded by Errett King and at the Simms farm about 15 miles north-east of town precipitation was only .13.

Swathing is now fairly general throughout this area, although many crops are still quite green and will require a few more days of sunshine before they can be cut. The demand for swathers is very heavy and farmers are putting in long hours in the hope of safely harvesting the big crop. Crops which were hailed have made a good comeback but will not be ready to cut until about the end of the month.

Following Monday's storm, the weather was cloudy on Tuesday but cleared Wednesday afternoon. The temperature dropped to 32 Monday night but no frost damage to crops has been reported yet. Some hail accompanied Monday's rain but was not heavy enough to damage crops.

The same storm caused heavy hail damage as it went south, cutting an eight-mile swath from Granum south-east to Warner.

Majorville, Too, Has Rain Trouble

As the radio announcer would say, due to difficulties beyond our control we have been unable to get our news letter to town, the difficulty here being mud. Raindrops have pitter-pattered down to the extent of over three inches during the past week and it's doubtful if anyone is enjoying their pattering. Crops are flattened and still green. Harvesting will be difficult and more costly, gardens also have suffered although the damage to them is a minor detail. Some think the wet spell delayed danger of frost, but frost seldom comes early during a dry season. To you folks at distant points who turn first of all to Majorville news our regrets that we have been unable to get the mail out to catch the deadline, but most of you know what Majorville roads are like.

Miss MacDougall of High River, East Majorville school teacher, has been mud-bound at Clemmons for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellman recently visited with their son Vorce at Westlock.

Mrs. Alf Heather and her mother, Mrs. Hughes of Chicago, were Calgary visitors last week. Mrs. Hugh Laughren recently underwent an operation in a Calgary hospital but is reported to be home again and getting along fine.

Mrs. Bertschy recently spent a few days at Arrowwood.

Mrs. Bartsch visited at Elnora last week and on the return trip was accompanied by her brother, who assumes teaching in Milo school.

Mrs. H. Winch and Frances accompanied Mrs. Bartsch to Calgary to meet Jay and Fay on their return from a three week vacation with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jacobs at Kaslo, B.C. Jay, an enthusiastic fisherman of 12, reports the fishing good. The youngsters made the trip from and back to Calgary unaccompanied.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Clarke were weekend guests at the Clemmons home.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Heather were Calgary visitors recently at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Gordon.

Mrs. Wellman motored to Cardston this week to attend the funeral of her uncle. Her father accompanied her on the trip.

Bob Prentice, who is a member of the R.C.A.F., is at present home on leave. Bob thinks life in the Air Force is O.K.

One of our ardent fishermen reports losing a hook and line to a whale or something like that at the river. So if you hook such a fish with a hook and line attached leave word at the post office.

Mrs. Stanley Heather spent last week at the home of her son-in-law, Ernie Heather.

Mrs. Ernie Heather, we are sorry to report, is still confined to Vulcan Hospital. We all sincerely hope Lillian will be able to return home soon.

Miss MacDougall, who recently resigned her position after five years as teacher of East Majorville school, returned to the teacherage this week to pack her belongings. While in the district she visited at the home of her former students, Leona Vooyst and Leona Klemle, the only two grade nine students who passed the exams. The re-opening of the school is at present uncertain.

Mrs. Art Kisinger of Brooks was a recent afternoon guest of Mrs. Burton Hingley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes of Chicago, Ill., are guests at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Heather.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Heather were supper guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. L. Gordon of Cluny.

Mr. and Mrs. Damien Corbiel of Cluny and Mr. and Mrs. Hap Heather and Terry were Sunday guests at the Geo. Heather home.

W.I. Urges Farm Name Plates

The September meeting of the Field Hill W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. A. Sales, Thursday, Sept. 6, with nine members and three visitors present. Mrs. Bowler, the president, conducted the meeting and in the absence of Mrs. Marshall, the secretary, Mrs. Frieda McRoberts occupied her chair. Mrs. MacMillan, the treasurer, gave the financial report of the branch. Roll Call was answered with Current Events.

Business matters dealt with were light, but included a discussion re: the placing of name plates on the gates of rural members. This matter was taken up some time ago, but as nothing was ever done about it, the members decided to go ahead with the plan at this time. In line with a recent request for used, clean nylon hose to be sent to a Disabled Veterans' hospital, for the making of useful items by the men in this institution, it was decided that members would send or bring clean nylon hose to Mrs. Sales, who agreed to pack and send them.

The need of games, cards etc., for use of the patients in the Rest Haven Home at Medicine Hat was brought up and the secretary was instructed to write the matron to determine just what items would be of the greatest use to the women and men there.

Discussion was held regarding entertaining the members' husbands at a social evening, but details were left until the next meeting. Mrs. Ross Walker offered her home for the occasion.

An interesting paper on the late Mrs. Nellie McClung presented by Mrs. MacMillan was much appreciated.

The contest arranged by Mrs. McRoberts was won by Mrs. J. Gradwell, while the tea draw went to Mrs. Minnie Walker.

An unusual feature of this meeting was that four generations of one family were present, namely Mrs. Z. Deal, Calgary; Mrs. Earl Deal, who is a member, Mrs. J. Gradwell and baby son of Manitoba.

A delicious hot lunch was served with Mrs. McRoberts assisting the hostess with serving. During lunch a birthday cake, with lighted candles was brought in and members, joined in singing "Happy Birthday to You" in honor of Mrs. Bowler and Mrs. Sales, whose birthdays occurred recently. Both honored ladies thanked their friends for their kind thoughts.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. N. Scotney, Thursday, October 11.

Some 25 years ago a young man, Cliff Chaddie by name, arrived in the district from Chilliwack, B.C. and was employed during harvest by Heather Bros. In those days power binders were followed by stookers and threshers. Cliff spent the full harvest routine through. This fall his son arrived to help Geo. Heather with his harvest work. He was accompanied by a pal who will work for Alf Heather.

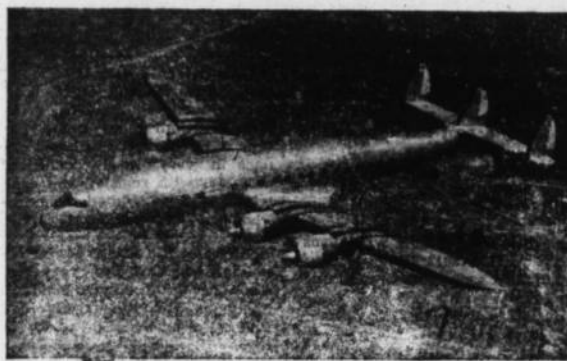

The rain last week amounted to over four inches before it was over with the result grain in swath is heavily damaged and standing grain is reported to be sprouting. Harvesting is general now but good weather is certainly needed to speed the work.

Another link with the past was forged this week when East Majorville school did not reopen for the new term. Students will in future be taken by bus to Milo school. East Majorville is the last rural school in our district to come under the transportation system. For some students it means the end of a walk of from 1 to 3 miles. Others rode or drove a cart. Some were lucky enough to go by car each day. However, unless roads are improved it is doubtful if students will acquire any more school days, but for high school age students it means getting high school and still be able to be home and that is worth a great deal. The school is situated at the extreme east of Majorville and is 13 miles to town. After a rain or blizzard that can mean a long trip and under these conditions teachers are hard to find to accept them. So we bow to the march of progress and he is indeed a fool who would do otherwise.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Prentice is a victim of flu and has entered hospital for treatment.

Help support your own Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital by giving grain. You'll give a happy ending to the story of a crippled child.

TCA's New Airliner

Photographed in flight is a Super Constellation, a newly designed airliner, which is being purchased by Trans-Canada Air Lines for overseas operation. The 65-ton aircraft will be fifty miles per hour faster and will be capable of carrying more passengers on trans-ocean runs than any present commercial transport. Powered by new compounded turbine-reciprocating engines of 3250 horse-power each, the Super Constellations will fly non-stop between Montreal and London in 10½ hours. TCA has ordered five.

Commercial Vehicles Affected

New Regulations Governing Clearance Lights and Reflectors

The attention of truckers and other drivers of commercial vehicles is drawn to an amendment of the Public Service Vehicles Act dealing with Clearance Lights.

Section 1.9.1. is cancelled and the following section is now in force:

Every Public Service and Commercial Vehicle having a width in excess of eighty inches including the load thereon shall be equipped with clearance lights in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) On the front of the vehicle, two amber lights, one at each extreme width of the vehicle body.

(b) On the rear of the vehicle two red reflectors, one at each extreme width of the vehicle body.

(c) Such reflectors shall be so placed as to be not less than twenty-four (24) inches and not more than sixty (60) inches above the surface of the road or pavement.

(d) Every reflector required by this section shall be of such size and characteristics and so maintained as to be readily visible at night time from all distances within five hundred (500) feet and fifty (50) feet from the vehicle when directly in front of lawful upper beams of head lamps.

Providing however, in the case of vehicles where it is impracticable to have clearance lights mounted at either the front or the rear of the body of the vehicle then the said required clearance lights may be carried at the ends of a bar or pole securely attached to the top of the rear of the cab of the vehicle in such a manner that the extreme width of truck and/or load may be plainly indicated from the front and the rear of the vehicle.

(e) All Public Service and Commercial Vehicles, including pole trailers shall, when carrying loads of lumber, poles, well casing or other materials which extend beyond the rear of the vehicle, be provided with flexible extension cords for the purpose of displaying red clearance lights at the extreme rear and extreme width of such loads.

(f) In the case of semi-trailers or any combination of vehicles which exceed thirty-five (35) feet in length, then in addition to the above requirements, a red lateral light shall be located as near the centre as possible on the left side of the vehicle and in such a position as to make it clearly visible from any vehicle approaching from the left.

(g) All clearance lights shall be controlled from a circuit that is separate from the head and tail light circuit of the vehicle.

(h) All clearance lights shall be such and so placed that they shall be visible from a distance of at least five hundred (500) feet under normal atmospheric conditions.

(i) During the period between sunset and sunrise or at any time when the atmospheric conditions are such that objects on the public highways are not plainly visible at a distance of three hundred (300) feet, the said clearance lights shall be alight.

New Section 1.9.2 Reflectors

(a) Every Public Service and Commercial Vehicle having a width of less than eighty (80) inches including the load thereon shall be equipped with at least one reflector at the rear towards the left side of the vehicle. Such reflector may be either a separate unit or one incorporated with the tail lamp unit.

(b) Every Public Service and Commercial Vehicle having a width in excess of eighty (80) inches including the load thereon shall be equipped with reflectors which have a diameter of at least three (3) inches across the reflecting surface and in the following manner:

(1) On the front of the vehicle, two amber reflectors, one at each extreme width of the vehicle body.

(2) On the rear of the vehicle two red reflectors, one at each extreme width of the vehicle body.

(3) Such reflectors shall be so placed as to be not less than twenty-four (24) inches and not more than sixty (60) inches above the surface of the road or pavement.

(c) Every reflector required by this section shall be of such size and characteristics and so maintained as to be readily visible at night time from all distances within five hundred (500) feet and fifty (50) feet from the vehicle when directly in front of lawful upper beams of head lamps.

Precipitation At Berrywater This Year 25.56 Inches

Some interesting statistics have been provided for the Advocate by Mr. D. B. Sim, who has an official precipitation gauge at his farm in the Berrywater district and keeps daily records. From January 1st, 1951, to September 10th, the total precipitation in the Berrywater district was 25.56 inches, made up as follows: Snowfall in January, February and March 3.64; in April snow and rain accounted for 2.68; May 2.45; June 7.01; July 3.38; August 5.66 and up to September 10th, .74. Surely this is a record for any part of Alberta.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Love on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Alvo Love, Mrs. Love Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Andy Knive, Kathleen and Archie McEachern, Elwood Harrison, Carman and Ken Fel of Ontario will assist with harvest operations on the Wilson Oldfield farm.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Douglass attended funeral services for Byron Carr at Okotoks last week.

H. C. Douglass was a business visitor to Calgary on Monday.

Jim Nicol is in the district attending harvesting operations on his land.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carr of Okotoks were visitors at the H. C. Douglass home the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Smith and young son, accompanied by Mrs. A. Wismer spent Monday and Tuesday in Lethbridge.

Sunday guests at the T. Webber home included: Miss Zola Peterson and Miss Evril Henry, Lethbridge; Bob Prentice, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith and family and Mrs. Anne Smith, Milo.

Miss Anne Oldfield was a weekend guest of Miss Marilyn McCord, at Milo.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Richardson report that they caught an 18-inch rainbow trout off the dam at Lake McGregor Thursday of last week. Rainbow trout are very rare in the lake although it was supposed to have been stocked with trout at one time. The belief is that the pike, which are very plentiful in this water, have destroyed the trout.

New Barons Well Is Success; To Go On Production

(From Lethbridge Herald) Oil interest at Barons has taken a decided upsurge following the bringing in yesterday of Barons-Central-Del Rio No. 3, just east of town. The well makes the area west of the discovery look good and additional drilling is forecast.

Coring was continued late yesterday afternoon in the Barons sand with some additional porosity encountered succeeded by shale. Production is therefore coming from a zone five to six feet in thickness with good oil saturation.

Bert Gow of Calgary, formerly of Barons, vice-president of Barons Oil Ltd., stated today the well will be completed and put on production. It will be cleaned out and production casing run this afternoon. No estimate of the production of the new well has been made but it looks as good or better than the discovery, which it offsets on the west.

The well which bottoms at 4,120 feet is free from water. It was drilled by Central Leduc Oils Ltd. and Del Rio Producers Ltd. team under an arrangement with Barons Oil Ltd.

A drillstem test brought a recovery of both gas and oil. Gas rose to the surface in four minutes with a pipe recovery of 2,300 feet of clean oil.

Crude oil from Barons No. 1 is now sold to Imperial Oil and nets the company $2.19 a barrel. It is trucked to the Barons rail yards where it is loaded into tank cars and shipped to the Calgary refinery.

The well has produced 13,000 barrels to date under Conservation Board allowances. The potential of Barons-Central-Del Rio No. 3 has yet to be established.

A camel can run about 16 miles an hour.

Associate Minister Church of Christ

A reception was held in the study of the Church of Christ following the service last Sunday night for Neilan Dodson, new associate minister of the church, and his family.

Mr. Dodson received his education in the Northwest Christian College of Eugene, Oregon and has previously ministered in that area with success. Mrs. Dodson, after taking studies in the state normal school and teaching for two years, completed her work at the same college and the University of Oregon. She taught Bible in the public schools of Lane and Marion Counties, Oregon, for three years and is well qualified to lead in youth work.

J. Chapman, minister of the church, revealed Sunday night some of the future plans of the church. Besides the expansion of the youth program of the congregation Bible Classes and training courses will be offered to any interested individuals in the community. These will include study classes in Biblical knowledge, training for teachers and church leaders, and education classes on related subjects. Certificates will be awarded to those completing courses.

Other major plans of the church with community wide interest will be announced in October.

Adopt Reflector Car Plates in '52

Alberta car owners will have "luminous" license plates in 1952, according to a recent announcement by the provincial government.

The announcement is of interest to all motorists, indicating that a major step will be taken in the interests of highway safety.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association, one of the principal advocates of safe driving, have indicated their interest in this new plan for this province. They have expressed high hopes that it will have the effect of reducing accidents and also will aid in apprehending those who are prone to violate traffic laws by reckless driving or other wilful actions that create traffic hazards.

While it is the intention to use a "luminous" or shiny plate which will reflect at night, the provincial authorities will stay with the present two-plate system for cars. Some provinces have decided to revert to the single plate plan.

The luminous plate has been tried out in some states with gratifying results, it is claimed.

There can be a happy ending to the story of a crippled child. . . Farmers, you can help by giving grain to Alberta's Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital.

U.N. Fights Disease in Korea

To avoid the threat of epidemics the United Nations is carrying out a mass inoculation campaign in Korea. Inoculations against small pox of the populations of Incheon and Seoul will have been completed by the end of October. U.N. is also carrying vaccination campaigns against typhus, typhoid and cholera with native doctors under the supervision of the United Command which supplies equipment.

The Slow Driver

While talking about traffic accidents it is worthwhile to record that in many parts of the country the slow driver is getting as unpopular as the driver who drives at an excessive rate of speed. The Province of British Columbia has been moving in regard to slow drivers and the Highway Patrols have been instructed to check up on them. As a matter of fact nothing is more exasperating than to be on a main arterial highway wanting to make a good average speed and to run into a line up of cars held up at front by some Sunday afternoon driver who is ambling along at twenty-five miles per hour. All down the line one is able to see cars trying to pull out of the line of traffic in order to pass. If a car should approach from the opposite direction danger is immediately apparent. The erratic speed with which such drivers travel is also a difficulty for the car that is following never knows when the other driver is going to cut down his speed for no good reason. Such driving ought to fall in the category of dangerous driving just as much as the fast reckless driving does. It would be advantageous for our highway patrols to check on this just as other places are doing.

Wrong Credit Given

As mild a man as one could meet attended a ladies' tea the other day, and out of the goodness of his heart offered to write a piece for the paper about it. And he did well too. He had a word for the ambrosial biscuits and gave nice space to the angel food, hitting the big features right on the button. But he did forget to mention the ladies who poured and that lapse landed him in unpleasantness. If the ladies had kept quiet nothing would have come of it. But their open criticism stung him to defence of his own writeup. He began to study the pattern of the customary social column, and now believes the wrong people get all the publicity.

For example, from the standpoint of the country dweller he thinks of the long chain of effort which went into that tea. First young junior was coaxed or threatened into splitting enough wood for the baking of the angel food and tarts. Then all the extra water to be hauled from the well. Then the lady of the house with sweeper and duster who cleaned every nook and cranny. Perhaps some folks went on short rations to make the party a success. At any rate by contrast with these substantial contributors the lady who performs the gesture of "pouring" is the merest trivia, not as beautiful as the flowers and infinitely less important than the other human factors who never dream of getting their names in the paper.

Having proved to his own satisfaction that it is the wrong people who get their names in the social columns, our mild little man scrutinized other types of news matter. He thinks people who make up an audience are of more consequence than the speaker. Almost everyone likes to talk anyway, so it is the humble people who submit themselves to listening who should be conspicuously noted. John Smith for example, who hates cultural subjects, should get credit for attending the talk on Grecian art, and behaving very well. It is true that Mrs. C. W. Jones came in very late as if carried on a high wind. But she'd had a little tiff with her husband and did nicely to get there at all. Little comments like that are more worthy of print than the dry bones of what the speaker said.

In the doings of parliament, our mild man thinks the real space should be given to those who refrain from talking. Instead of giving knighthoods and publicity to front men who merely "pour" he would bestow those honors on the men who work deep in the mines, couple the trains, give the all-clear signal, keep machinery oiled. In other words, the workers of the world without whom there would be no front men.

It all goes to show how easily a mild little conservative can be transformed into a roaring rebel. If our mild man had not been attacked for praising the cake makers and fire builders instead of the fronts at the tea party, he would have never launched into this research which threatens the whole established basis of which people are real news, deserving of headlines.

Round about this time of year holiday pleasure is marred by accidents, many of which need not have happened. Care and courtesy on the highways and a knowledge of the fundamental rules of water safety can save lives.

Letter to the Editor

Vulcan, Alta.,
Sept. 7, 1951.
Editor, Vulcan Advocate.

Dear Sir:
Why not get to the bottom of all this complaint about shortage of nurses. There is a reason and more reason than meets the eye perhaps.

Nurses (good ones, too) come and go freely, hardly staying a year, some only a very short time. We have a splendid group of doctors whom the nurses enjoy working with. What then is the trouble? The doctors are fine, the hospital is modern. Could it be a few certain persons in control to blame. Yes, it could be just that. It wouldn't hurt anyone to vote in new blood on its staff. Maybe that

Canada's Exports Show Increase

Canada's exports for July were $379 million, nearly $8 million more than imports for the same month says the current issue of The Canadian Bank of Commerce monthly Commercial Letter. This was the first monthly surplus on trading account this year. It reduced the cumulative deficit for 1951 to $332 million. Exports to both the United States and the United Kingdom increased during the month. For the second successive month imports from the United States declined slightly.

Harvesting is now well under way. The first official estimate forecast a record wheat crop of 582 million bushels of wheat and bumper outturns of feed grains. Rain has delayed harvest work and the lateness of the season in Western Canada makes late-sown crops vulnerable to frost damage. Ample feed supplies are virtually assured—a good omen, having regard to current rather precarious live stock and dairy products supplies.

Balancing The Labour Budget
No very far-reaching change in either the use nor the source of labour is likely this year unless foreign relations alter quickly for the worse. Beyond 1951 the outlook is more obscure. Assuming that the projected defence program must be carried out in full, a fairly large addition to the effective labour force must be contrived, or a lowering of present living standards accepted.

The most critical shortage at present is that in skilled labour. And it is one that seems likely to remain with us for some time. Unless there is some "dilution" of labour or a far-reaching attempt by individual industries to raise the status of their less skilled workers, the skilled labour situation seems likely to grow more acute as the volume of defence work grows. On the present efforts of skilled workers the subsequent employment of semi and unskilled labour depends. Without skilled workers shifts can be increased only to a limited extent.

Essentially the problem is to produce the military equipment we must have together with enough civilian goods to keep prices within bounds.

Between 1946 and 1950 that part of the labour force engaged in manufacturing increased by 18 per cent. This was attained only at the expense of other segments of the economy, notably agriculture. Throughout this period shortages of skilled and semi-skilled tradesmen have persisted. Some doubt, therefore, arises concerning the ability of our economy to man the increased capacity contemplated in the next year and a half, while also providing the additional labour needed in other sectors.

The greatest untapped source of labour at the present time is women not currently seeking employment, students and retired persons. In June 1951, 24 per cent of adult females were members of the labour force, compared with 33.5 per cent in mid-1944. While the restoration of the latter percentage would be neither necessary nor socially desirable in the absence of extreme urgency, this group forms the largest potential pool of labour. It is likely also that many persons who have just reached retiring age could be induced to remain at work. The natural increase in the labour force is now about 50,000 a year, part of which will likely be absorbed into the armed services.

About 5 per cent of the current labour force is probably made up of immigrants who have come to Canada between 1946 and 1950. Immigration this year may set a post-war record of about 150,000 about 90,000 of whom may be added to the labour force.

Tough Law For Drinking Driver

An amendment to the Criminal code, approved June 30 reads:

"Everyone who, while his ability to drive a motor vehicle or automobile is impaired by alcohol or any drug, drives any motor vehicle or automobile, or has the care or control of a motor vehicle or automobile, whether it is in motion or not, is guilty of an offence and liable upon summary conviction or upon conviction under indictment."

It is said that this amendment is designed to reach the man who has not been drinking in the sense of complete intoxication.

Now the "in between" driver is liable to, upon conviction:

1. For the first offence, to a fine not exceeding $50 and not less than $5, or to imprisonment not exceeding three months, or to both fine and imprisonment;
2. For a second offence, to a term not exceeding three months and not less than 14 days; and,
3. For each subsequent offence, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year and not less than three months.

Also, under the act, a person who occupies the seat normally occupied by the driver, shall be deemed to have control of the vehicle unless he can prove he did not enter to start it in motion.

Too, chemical analysis may now be admitted in evidence in an effort to prove or disprove that the person was intoxicated or under the influence of a narcotic drug.

However, no person is required to give a sample for analysis, and, should he refuse, the fact is not admissible in evidence against him.

Handle Weed Seeds Safely

A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture, says that much good work is being done by farmers of this province in control of weeds by cultivation, but that the need for careful disposal of weed seeds from threshing machines and combines is frequently overlooked. Some thought should be given before harvest to the safe handling of these weed seeds, says Mr. Wilson. Many of the screenings taken from the combine are of little value and should be burned. If, however, the screenings contain any quantity of cracked grain, the feeding value is worth considering so long as the weed seeds and screenings are handled safely to prevent reinfestation of farm lands.

While not overlooking the feed value of some weed seeds and screenings, officials of the Alberta Department of Agriculture are concerned lest careless handling offset the value of good farm practice in weed control. Regulations established under the Noxious Weeds Act are for the farmer's protection. To ensure safe handling and proper feeding of screenings and weed seeds, those wishing to use them for feed must apply for a permit. Permits may be obtained from municipal field supervisors, weed inspectors, or from the Field Crops Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Screenings should be handled in such a way that they will not be scattered in transit or fed in other than enclosed feed lots. Carloads of screenings are often shipped from terminal elevators for winter feeding. Unless every precaution is taken, dangerous weeds soon become established and any immediate gains from feeding screenings are lost as a result of expensive cultivation required at a later date.

For the first time in history the value of Canadian mineral production in 1950 exceeded $1,000,000,000.

THE VULCAN CHURCH OF CHRIST WELCOMES YOU

The Scriptures say: "If any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in this name."

John Wesley said: "I would to God that all sectarian names were forgotten, and that we, as humble, loving disciples, might sit down at the Master's feet, read His Holy Word, imbibe His Spirit, and transcribe His life into our own."

Martin Luther said: "Cease, my dear friends, to cling to those party names and distinctions; away with them all, and let us call ourselves only Christians."

Since the church is the Bride of Christ, it ought to wear His name and His alone, and we urge the Christian world to take heed to this matter and abandon divisive elements.

A very enjoyable social evening was held and the honored guests were presented with a beautiful pair of lamps on behalf of the Fireguard Community.

With The District Agriculturist

Hugh Michael

Farm Labour

The availability of farm workers is one of the major problems facing farmers in southern Alberta. This problem is becoming increasingly acute due to the continued movement of agricultural workers to other industries.

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, unemployment in industry has been steadily increasing. If the year 1939 is used as a base and called 100, then employment at May 1st, 1951 would be 175.2 as compared with 159.1 at May 1st 1950. This situation has been brought about by a combination of factors, notably a high rate of capital expenditure, heavy consumer buying, increased defense expenditures and a strong export demand for Canadian goods.

If the present high level of industrial employment opportunities continue to exist, farmers might well expect to find the labor situation even more serious next year. It would appear that farmers generally now are in open competition with industry for available manpower, and the farmer is at present, fighting a losing battle.

If sufficient farm labor is going to be maintained, farmers may have to change their methods of dealing with their hired help. Perhaps plans should be made whereby steady employment is given instead of only seasonal employment. Other incentives may also have to be used, such as an improvement in housing, and bonuses or profit sharing in some of the farm enterprises requiring extra chores.

All District Agriculturists act as local labor officers, and do all they can to bring employers and prospective employees together. This service can only function if some use is made of it. Therefore any farmer requiring a man is asked to leave his name with the District Agriculturist, and also anyone seeking employment. Quite often, men looking for farm work drop in at the office and cannot be placed, because farmers wanting a man did not let us know of their needs.

MUCH SAFER IN CANADA
Last year there were 44 attempts on the life of President Truman. In this year there have been 85 and 3,629 persons questioned about letters and telephone calls they made to the White House.

What's the score for Prime Minister St. Laurent and Governor-General Alexander, asks The Financial Post?

The deputy commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police told The Post there have been no attempts on the life of either man in the past two years "unless it's something we don't know about—no threatening letters, phone calls or suspicious characters—nothing of the kind."
